DCI Weekly Report

Office of the Inspector General

The inspection report of the Office of Finance has been reviewed by the DDCI and forwarded to the DDA for action.

As a part of our ongoing effort to expose our inspectors to a variety of management styles, we had [] Director of Development and Engineering, give us his briefing on how he manages OD&E. The talk was very stimulating and lasted approximately two hours. Also in this regard, several weeks ago we provided our inspectors the opportunity to see the videotape version of In Search of Excellence. This also was well received.

We are nearing the end of our first round of four-month inspections, and it looks like we will be close to our target. Next week we will spend some time examining the process to see where additional improvements can be made. We are also reinstating our practice of meeting with all Agency personnel who return to Headquarters from a foreign assignment.

Earlier this week we worked with [] the Office of General Counsel to develop an affidavit for your signature pertaining to the General Westmoreland case. The affidavit is important to us because it will establish what we believe should be, if accepted by the court, a legal basis for denying access to privileged IG materials.
